

SALVAGE CAMPAIGN BEGINS; POLICE ARE DIRECTED TO HELP

The police are to help boost the Red Cross salvage campaign, which opened today without a time limit for ending.

Major Raymond W. Pullman has sent out a bulletin to all members of the police force explaining the need of assisting in the drive and urging close co-operation. The police are urged to inform the public that anything from a string to an abandoned house will be acceptable for salvage.

Send to Fire Stations.
The public is asked to send magazines, tin foil, books, and any cast-away articles to the nearest fire station. The purpose of this is to expedite the transportation of such articles to a central location in each section of the city.

Major Pullman's order follows:
"The Red Cross salvage campaign begins Monday morning. Every man, woman, and child can help in this drive, without giving any money, and the police are asked to co-operate in every way, giving information about the campaign to citizens who inquire, as well as giving materials for which they have no use."

"Save and bring to the nearest fire engine house things you no longer need or want or that you would ordinarily throw away."

Any Gift Welcome.
"Anything from a piece of string to an abandoned house will find a welcome, and it will soon be on its way to France in the form of surgical dressings, bandages, sweaters, socks, and other kinds of mercy and necessary war relief supplies."

"No money is asked, but the individual thought and cooperation of all the Red Cross must have. Help to turn the waste of this city into Red Cross money by bringing all your newspapers, magazines, books and tin and lead foil to your nearest fire engine house. Later, as the committee provides markets, they will call for everything the housewife has for which she has no use. Start Monday."

MEANS TELLS OF GERMAN ATTEMPT TO RAISE MONEY

CHICAGO, July 23.—Gaston B. Means, here to testify in Mrs. Mary Melvin's fight to establish validity of the so-called second King will, gave further chapters of his glib-edge deals with the German government before the United States entered the war. The witness also identified the mysterious "Otto" mentioned earlier in his testimony, the man who negotiated with him to buy submarine chasers, as Rudolph H. Otto, 141 Broadway, New York.

Means told of having been approached in a Chicago hotel by a German agent who bore $25,000,000 in negotiable securities which he wished Means to convert into cash. "My understanding was that the securities were the property of members of the Prussian royal family. The securities were shown me by a man named Schwartz. I consulted a friend as to whether I should handle the securities. He advised me not to handle the papers and I did not do so."

ILLINOISANS BACK LEWIS.
CHICAGO, July 23.—"Loyalty in war" was the keynote of the State Democratic committee meeting last night when Senator James Hamilton Lewis was endorsed for re-election. The committee also formally endorsed Democratic candidates for Congress.

CHATHAM, MASS., July 23.—Official confirmation was received here today of the safe landing of a dirigible balloon at Summerside, Nova Scotia, with its three occupants. The balloon had been missing since Friday.

It left the station here last week for a ten-mile run out to sea. It is believed that the wind was so high that the balloon lost control, or that the machinery refused to operate. The three fliers have been transferred to Halifax.

Soldier-Bride Is Dead at Home.

MRS. HAZEL CARTER.

Mrs. Hazel Carter, who last summer started with an infantry regiment from Douglas to France, disguised as a soldier, is dead at her home at Lordsburg, N. Mex. Mrs. Carter's husband, who was a corporal in the regiment, is in France. It was last July that Mrs. Carter almost reached France aboard a United States transport disguised as a soldier with her husband's regiment. Her hair was close-cropped and she wore a regular khaki uniform. Her identity and sex were discovered shortly before the transport reached its destination and she was sent back to New York. She was twenty-three years old.

NOMINATION FOR N. Y. GOVERNORSHIP DECLINED BY T. R.

OYSTER BAY, July 23.—Colonel Roosevelt is too deeply interested in the war to be a candidate for governor of New York. In a message to Attorney General Lewis, replying to Lewis' offer to withdraw from the race in the nomination if the Colonel would run, this was set forth.

Colonel Roosevelt's telegram, in part, follows:
"Dear Mr. Lewis: I am very genuinely touched by the spirit of your request, and I need hardly say how much I appreciate the honor you do me. But I cannot be a candidate for, nor accept the nomination for governor of New York."

"The position of governor in any State, and especially in this great and populous State, is one of the very highest consequence, and there is no man in the United States who ought not to feel honored to have the chance of filling it. But the duties of the place are not only of the highest importance, but are also very exacting and onerous and demand all of any man's time and energy and whoever occupies the place should devote himself wholeheartedly to the work, and therefore, his heart and soul and brain should be wholeheartedly in the work. This was true of me twenty years ago, when I became governor of New York. It is not and cannot be true of me now."

"For the last four years my whole being has been absorbed in the consideration of the tremendous problems, national and international, raised by the world war. I have thought of them and dwelt with them in my mind, to the exclusion of all other subjects. I could not turn from them with any heart to deal with any other subjects, even the domestic problems of this great State, deeply though I appreciate the vital importance of these problems. My soul is for the men who are fighting in this war."

WORK-OR-FIGHT RULE WILL INCLUDE ACTORS

Early steps will be taken to broaden the scope of the work-or-fight order so as to include theatrical entertainers and jockeys, according to indications at the War Department today.

Such a course would be in line with Secretary of War Baker's announced view that entertainers should go into productive lines or into the service.

CHIEF COOK RISES, 3-DAY VETERAN, TRANSFORMS MESS

CAMP HUMPHREYS, Va., July 23.—From railroading to kitchen was the transition of a forty-year-old patriot who enlisted with a strictly combatant company of engineers—Mess Sergeant Olaf Riis, a nephew of the late Jacob A. Riis, of New York, and a member of Company A, Fourth Regiment, a Pennsylvania command, at this camp.

Jacob Riis was a close friend of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, and one of New York's most distinguished citizens. He won fame with the pen. His nephew is winning laurels at this camp with the skillet. He began winning them that way, but now he is boasting others less skilled in culinary arts. Putting new messes "on their feet" is Sergeant Riis' job, when he is not conducting a special school for cooks.

When this camp was first opened there was shortage of good cooks. Riis was a veteran of three days' experience, no Captain Lamb, regimental adjutant, called him to his office and said, "Riis, I am giving you twelve men; I want you to make cooks out of them. You've got two weeks to do it."

Riis started to ask questions and explain that his cooking experience was of the briefest and that he didn't enlist for that sort of work anyway, but the captain shut him off with: "I don't know anything about that. You've been recommended for the job, so get busy."

Riis got busy, and to such good purpose that he not only made cooks of his pupils, but he made them such good cooks that every one of them has since been made a mess sergeant, with corresponding increase in pay. The kitchens run by Sergeant Riis and his dozen graduate cooks in the Fourth regiment are models of cleanliness and good cooking. All the officers of Riis' command take their meals with the regular company mess. After sampling one or two meals provided by the camp's champion cook, they voted as a unit to abandon the "officers' mess."

The regular soldier learns by experience that the principal man in the soldier's life under normal conditions is the cook. Let the cook be poor and his lamentations will exceed those of the prophets of old. The morale of that company will go up Salt River.

So, if your boy doesn't get enough to eat, the rations have nothing to do with it. They are the best any army ever had. Blame the cook.

NORTHCLIFFE SAYS WAY TO VICTORY IS THROUGH THE AIR

LONDON, July 23.—Viscount Northcliffe believes the way to Germany is "through the air." In an interview he said:

"Now, these American inventions were produced for Americans engaged in the war. I am as confident, as I am in your capacity to produce large quantities of everything, that the American inventive faculty will produce results unexpected by the Germans. I am no believer in a thirty years' war, but I do believe that before this abomination is stamped out, and it must be finally stamped out, this tremendous conflagration will blaze for a long time yet—sufficient time to give American inventors an opportunity of showing their national genius for new things and new ways of doing things."

"I am still convinced, as I always have been since I introduced the American plane to the British public many years ago, of the vast importance of the airplane in warfare. The real road into Germany is above the ground and not along it. I believe that where today we have air machines in hundreds we shall have them in tens of thousands. The English speaking peoples are better fliers than the Germans. They have more dash and individual courage. The German is a fine flier in his squadrons and circuses, but he prefers the safety of night bombing to daylight work. You have the capacity to produce the engines and the wings in unlimited quantity, and I know that you will do it."

"The airplane is democracy's most effective war machine, and the great American automobile plants can make it in thousands and will do so."

4,500 SEE MOVIES AT SYLVAN THEATER

Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:15 o'clock there will be free open-air entertainments, including concert and moving picture shows, at the Sylvan Theater. The first of these public amusements, last night, brought out an audience of about 4,500 persons, who thoroughly enjoyed the treat. The enterprise is under the auspices of the War Camp Community Service and the pictures are furnished through the kindness of the Film Men's Association, of which S. B. Lust is president. Prof. Peter Dykema led the singing and the Engineers' Band from Washington Barracks furnished music. A Douglas Fairbanks film will be shown tomorrow night and the Navy Yard Band will furnish the music.

Traveling Requisites

For the Summer Trip By Rail or Automobile

The increasing popularity of the automobile and the rising cost of railroad travel has increased the travel by auto. Ordinary baggage is all right for an automobile provided the trip is a short one, but where several travel together it is most inconvenient to have luggage piled inside the car.

We have several styles of Trunks, to fit either on the running board or in the back, where they are entirely out of the way.

Running Board Trunk, hawthorn frame, covered with enameled duck, with two commodious suit cases that fit inside. The suit cases are well lined and the fastenings are strong. The trunk comes with waterproof cover. $25.00.

Automobile Trunk for the back of a car, of hard vulcanized corrugated fiber. The large tray is divided into convenient compartments. $25.00.

An Excellent Steamer Wardrobe Trunk of three-ply bass wood with lifting top. One side is fitted with hangers, and the other is divided into two roomy compartments that open out and are divided into compartments like an ordinary trunk. It is well lined and fitted with good lock and hinges, and is a splendid value for $25.00.

Black Enamel Suit Cases, light and commodious, are just the right size for a week-end trip. They are lined with cretonne and have full-length pockets, 24, 26 and 28 inch sizes. $5.00 each.

Handsome Durable Cowhide Bag, the kind of luggage that bespeaks good taste; it is roomy, having full-length pockets on each side, and is lined with soft leather. An excellent value for $15.00.

Fourth floor, Center.
